

2022 Legal Pre-Conference
Final Agenda

Tuesday, April 26, 9:00 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Time	Topic and Speaker(s)
	Breakfast
9:00-9:10	Welcome and Overview Jill Moore, MPH, JD, UNC School of Government
9:10-10:00	North Carolina Legislative & Regulatory Update Virginia Niehaus, JD, MPH, Director of Legal & Regulatory Affairs, NC DHHS Division of Public Health Larry Michael, MPH, REHS, State Environmental Health Director/Section Chief, NC DHHS Division of Public Health
10:00-10:30	Case Law Update: Vaccination in the Federal Courts in 2021-22 Jill Moore, MPH, JD, UNC School of Government
10:30-10:45	Break
10:45-11:15	You Want What? What Public Health Officials Can (and Can't) Do About Extensive Public Records Requests Kristina Wilson, JD, UNC School of Government
11:15-12:15	Harassment of Public Health Officials: Emerging Legal Issues Jill Moore, MPH, JD, UNC School of Government, moderator Lisa Macon Harrison, MPH, Granville-Vance Health Director Kristi Nickodem, JD, UNC School of Government Kristina Wilson, JD, UNC School of Government Shea Denning, JD, UNC School of Government

This pre-conference is a shortened version of the annual North Carolina Local Health Directors' Legal Conference. It is being held in association with NCPHA this year to allow for the unusual scheduling the pandemic has required us all to adapt to. The conference will return to the School of Government in Chapel Hill in April 2023.

Certificates of attendance will be provided by the School of Government for attendees to use as evidence of receipt of public health law training. As always, the pre-conference is geared toward issues of particular interest to local health directors, but other state and local public health officials and employees are welcome to attend as well.