Legislative Reporting Service and Daily Bulletin Online

Since 1935, the School of Government's Legislative Reporting Service (LRS) has produced the Daily Bulletin and other publications to inform government officials and citizens about the status and content of North Carolina legislation.

The Daily Bulletin is published on the LRS website each day that the General Assembly is in session. Users can also choose to receive e-mail notification when each day's bulletin is available.

Highlighted Features

- Summaries of every filed bill, amendment, committee substitute, and conference report
- Summaries for bills on each day's House and Senate calendars
- Bill summaries searchable by subject-matter categories
- "My Bills" feature that allows users to monitor selected bills
- Search reports tailored to individual interests using "My Monitors"

How to Access the Daily Bulletin Online

Access the Legislative Reporting Service and Daily Bulletin Online at lrs.sog.unc.edu. While bill summaries and the Daily Bulletin are available without an account, users will need to create a free account in order to access the individualized "My Bills" and "My Monitors" features.

Other Legislative Summaries

The LRS also distributes the Weekly Status Report, an e-mailed summary of the current status of all pending legislation. Upon adjournment, the Index of Legislation, an annual compilation of status reports of the session's legislation, will also be available at lrs.sog.unc.edu.
