Indigent Defense Manual Series

John Rubin, Editor

Welcome to the UNC School of Government's Indigent Defense Manual Series!

The North Carolina Indigent Defense Manual Series is a collection of reference manuals addressing law and practice in areas in which indigent defendants and respondents are entitled to representation of counsel at state expense. The series was created to address the need for comprehensive reference materials for public defenders and appointed counsel, who devote their time, skill, and effort to representing poor people. In addition to assisting indigent defenders with their responsibilities, the manuals may be useful to others who work in the court system and need a reference source on the law. In keeping with the School of Government's commitment to practical scholarship, the manuals are written by authors with subject-matter expertise in their respective fields, experience in developing effective educational materials, and knowledge of how things work in practice. We recently expanded the series to add Indigent Defense Practice Guides, which are primers on specific areas of criminal law and procedure.

The screenshot shows the website for the NC Superior Court Judges. At the top, there is a blue header with the UNC School of Government logo and a search bar. Below the header is a navigation menu with links for About, Public Officials, Topics, Courses, Publications, Blogs, Resources, Giving, Knapp Library, and MPA Degree. The main content area features a large photograph of a group of people in a courtroom setting. To the left of the photo are social media icons for Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, and Email. Below the photo is the title "NC Superior Court Judges" and a sub-header "MICROSITE". To the right of the photo is a sidebar menu with sections for "EDUCATION AND TRAINING", "PUBLICATIONS", and "OTHER RESOURCES". The "EDUCATION AND TRAINING" section includes links for "Upcoming Events", "Materials from Past Schools & Conferences", "Online Education & Training", and "Questions About an Education Event?". The "PUBLICATIONS" section includes links for "NC Superior Court Judges' Benchbook", "Criminal Case Compendium", "Justice Reinvestment Resources", "Expunction & Related Relief", and "SOG Publications Storefront". The "OTHER RESOURCES" section includes links for "SOG Criminal Law Page" and "Subscribe to the Criminal Law Listserv". At the bottom of the page, there is a small introductory paragraph: "Welcome to the School of Government's Superior Court Judges microsite. Superior Court judges try civil cases involving more than $25,000, felony criminal cases, and misdemeanor and infraction appeals from District Court. For many years, faculty members at the School of Government have..."
