Judicial Notice

- ☐ In a TPR case, the DSS attorney asks that you take judicial notice of all of the prior proceedings in the abuse, neglect, and dependency case, including orders, reports to the courts, and other matters in the file.
- ☐ The attorney for the parent objects to your taking judicial notice of any of the materials.
- ☐ Your response?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Don't worry, be happy

You are presumed to disregard any incompetent evidence

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

If you really want to be happy, ask . . .

- ☐ What are the different aspects of prior proceedings that potentially could be considered?
- ☐ What are the applicable legal principles for each aspect?
- ☐ What is the impact of the prior information in the current proceeding?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

What is a proper subject of judicial notice?

A fact "not subject to reasonable dispute."
N.C. Evid. R. 201(b)

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

The Four Components of Prior Proceedings

- ☐ Orders and other record entries
- ☐ Findings of fact and conclusions of law
  - and also stipulations
- ☐ Documentary evidence
  - including court reports
- ☐ Testimony

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Orders and Other Record Entries

Prior orders and other record entries
ARE
subject to judicial notice BECAUSE
they are not subject to reasonable dispute and require no further proof

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Findings and Conclusions

Prior findings and conclusions
ARE
admissible and binding
ONLY IF
collateral estoppel applies

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Findings and Conclusions
(cont'd)

Prior findings and conclusions that do not meet c/e standards
ARE
generally inadmissible
BECAUSE
they are a form of hearsay

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Findings and Conclusions
(cont'd one more time)

Prior stipulations and concessions
ARE
generally admissible and binding

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Documentary Evidence

Prior documentary evidence IS
admissible (but not binding)
ONLY IF
the evidence is admissible under the rules of evidence

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Testimony

Prior testimony
IS
admissible (but not binding)
the testimony is admissible under an exception to the hearsay rule
