5

APPELLATE COMPUTING

- Sealed Documents

If graphic or explicit images are contained within the document you are filing, please check here:

If all or a portion of the document you are filing is Under Seal, or if you are filing a motion to seal the document, please check here:

Please select the appropriate level of confidentiality for your document below:

- Document is sealed and is available only to the court and to counsel of record for parties in the case.
- Document is sealed and is available only to the court and to the attorney who filed the document.

Please select which subsection under Rule 42 justifies filing the document under seal (consult Rule 42 of the North Carolina Rules of Appellate Procedure for more information):

- Rule 42(a) - The document was sealed in the trial tribunal and therefore remains under seal in the appellate courts. Note that you must attach to your document a copy of the order, statute, or other legal authority that sealed the document below.
- Rule 42(b) - The document is sealed pursuant to Rule 42(b).
- Rule 42(c) - The document is sealed by order of the appellate court or is subject to a motion to seal. Note that a document subject to a motion to seal will be held under seal pending the appellate court's disposition of the motion.

Have you filed, or do you plan to file, a separate motion that affects this document? (e.g., a motion to deem this document timely filed or a motion to seal this document)

No Yes

APPELLATE COMPUTING

- Laptop Updates

Security is the No. 1 reason to update software immediately. Software vulnerabilities enable cybercriminals to access a person's computer.

Threat actors see these vulnerabilities as open doors, enabling them to plant malware on people's systems.
