Magistrate Procedures for Ordering Civil License Revocations and the Seizure and Impoundment of Motor Vehicles

Shea Riggsbee Denning

I. Introduction

Several recent issues in this series have focused on the procedures magistrates should follow in conducting initial appearances. The procedures involving criminal cases generally are described in detail in Administration of Justice Bulletin No. 2009/08 ("Criminal Procedure for Magistrates"). Criminal cases involving implied consent laws, such as a charge of suspicion of impaired driving or an alcohol-related offense, may require magistrates to carry out several additional processes during the initial appearance. For example, magistrates may be required to revoke the defendant's driver's license, order that a vehicle driven by the defendant be seized and impounded, consider whether the defendant should be detained because his or her impairment poses a danger to others, and inform the defendant of the procedure for having witnesses appear at the jail to observe his or her condition or perform additional chemical analyses. The applicability of these procedures depends on the existence of factors specific to each.

The procedures for detaining impaired drivers and for informing defendants of their right to secure witnesses and to obtain further chemical analyses are described in Administration of Justice Bulletin No. 2009/07 ("What's Knoll got to do with It? Procedures in Implied Consent Cases to Prevent Dismissals under Knoll"). This bulletin focuses on the aforementioned procedures governing civil license revocation and the seizure and impoundment of motor vehicles. This discussion is flanked at the beginning by a review of police processing procedures in implied consent cases and at the end by two appendixes. Appendix A contains Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) forms referenced in the discussion, and Appendix B presents flow-charts illustrating the processes for ordering the revocation of a civil license and the seizure of motor vehicles.

II. Police Processing Duties in Implied Consent Cases

To understand the procedures applicable in connection with an initial appearance for an implied consent offense, one must first consider the activities undertaken by law enforcement officers and chemical analysts before that appearance.

When a person is arrested for an implied consent offense, or if criminal process has been issued, including a citation, a law enforcement officer who has reasonable grounds to believe that the person charged has committed the offense may require that person to undergo chemical analysis.¹ The officer is authorized to transport the accused to any location within North Carolina for the purposes of administering one or more chemical analyses.²

North Carolina law defines chemical analysis as a test or tests of the breath, blood, or other bodily fluid or substance of a person performed in compliance with statutory requirements to determine the person's blood–alcohol level or the presence of an impairing substance.³ The concentration of alcohol in a person is expressed either as grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or as grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.⁴ The results of a defendant's alcohol concentration determined by a chemical analysis are reported to the hundredths, with any result between hundredths reported to the next lower hundredth.⁵

Before any type of chemical analysis is administered, a person charged with an implied consent offense must be taken before a chemical analyst, defined as a person granted a permit by the Department of Health and Human Services under G.S. 20-139.1 to perform such analyses.⁶ The analyst must first tell the person, and provide notice in writing of, the following rights:

- 1. You have been charged with an implied-consent offense. Under the impliedconsent law, you can refuse any test, but your driver's license will be revoked for one year and could be revoked for a longer period of time under certain circumstances, and an officer can compel you to be tested under other laws.
- 2. The test results, or the fact of your refusal, will be admissible in evidence at trial.
- 3. Your driving privilege will be revoked immediately for at least thirty days if you refuse any test or if the test result is 0.08 or more, 0.04 or more if you were driving a commercial vehicle, or 0.01 or more if you are under the age of twenty-one.
- 4. After you are released, you may seek your own test in addition to this test.
- 5. You may call an attorney for advice and select a witness to view the testing procedures remaining after the witness arrives, but the testing may not be delayed for these purposes longer than thirty minutes from the time you are notified of these rights. You must take the test at the end of thirty minutes even if you have not contacted an attorney or your witness has not arrived.⁷

If a law enforcement officer has reasonable grounds to believe that a person has committed an implied consent offense, and the person is unconscious or otherwise in a condition that makes the person incapable of refusing the test, the officer may direct the taking of a blood sample or the administration of any other type of chemical analysis that may be effectively performed.⁸ There is no requirement in the North Carolina General Statutes (hereinafter G.S.) that the chemical analyst inform such a person of the implied consent rights in G.S. 20-16.2(a) or that the person be asked to submit to the analysis pursuant to G.S. 20-16.2(c).⁹

The law enforcement officer or the chemical analyst designates the type of test or tests to be administered, that is, a test of blood, breath, or urine.¹⁰ The officer or chemical analyst then asks the person to submit to the designated type of chemical analysis.¹¹ A person's refusal prevents testing under the implied consent laws but does not preclude testing pursuant to other applicable procedures of law,¹² such as pursuant to a search warrant or the exigency exception to the search warrant requirement of the Fourth Amendment.¹³

Chemical analyses are most frequently obtained through utilization of a breath-testing instrument.¹⁴ The North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services approves breath-testing instruments on the basis of results of evaluations by the department's Forensic Tests for Alcohol Branch.¹⁵ The breath-testing instrument currently authorized and used is the Intoximeter, Model Intox EC/IR II.¹⁶ The operational procedures for the instrument are prescribed by administrative regulation.¹⁷ The regulations require that the person being tested be observed to

See G.S. 20-139.1(d1) (providing that if a person refuses to submit to a test, a law enforcement officer with probable cause may, without a court order, compel the person to provide blood or urine for analysis if the officer reasonably believes that the delay necessary to obtain a court order would result in the dissipation of the percentage of alcohol in the person's blood or urine) and State v. ensure that he or she has not ingested alcohol or other fluids or regurgitated, vomited, eaten, or smoked in the fifteen minutes immediately prior to the collection of a breath specimen¹⁸ as well as the collection of two breath samples in which alcohol concentrations do not differ by more than 0.02.¹⁹

A person's willful refusal to submit to a chemical analysis may, depending on other factors, result in the revocation of his or her driver's license.²⁰ A person is considered to have willfully refused a chemical analysis when that person (1) is aware that he or she has a choice to take or refuse to take the test, (2) is aware of the time limit within which he or she must take the test, (3) voluntarily elects not to take the test, and (4) knowingly permits the prescribed thirty-minute time limit to expire before electing to take the test.²¹

At the law enforcement officer's discretion, a person may be asked to submit to a chemical analysis of his or her blood or urine in addition to or in lieu of a chemical analysis of the person's breath.²² If a subsequent chemical analysis is requested, the person must again be advised of the implied consent rights under G.S. 20-16.2(a).²³ When a law enforcement officer specifies a blood or urine test as the type of chemical analysis to be conducted, a physician, registered nurse, emergency medical technician, or other qualified person must withdraw the blood sample or obtain the urine sample.²⁴ A person's willful refusal to submit to a blood or urine test is a willful refusal under G.S. 20-16.2.²⁵

In an implied consent case in which a defendant is asked to submit to a chemical analysis, the law enforcement officer and chemical analyst (who may be the same person) complete an AOC-CVR-1A (Affidavit and Revocation Report; see Appendix A) averring that the implied consent testing procedures have been followed. The affidavit, which in certain cases (discussed below) serves also as a revocation report, typically is sworn and subscribed before the magistrate at the initial appearance.

After completing all investigatory and other specified procedures, crash reports, and chemical analyses, a law enforcement officer must take the person before a judicial official for an initial appearance.²⁶

The procedures set forth in Article 24 of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes govern initial appearances in implied consent cases just as they do in other criminal cases, except where those procedures are modified by the implied consent offense procedures set forth in Article 2D of Chapter 20. The implied consent offense procedures permit a magistrate to hold an initial appearance at any place within the county and require, "to the extent practicable," that a magistrate "be available at locations other than the courthouse when it will expedite the initial appearance."²⁷ To determine whether there is probable cause to believe a person charged with an implied consent offense is impaired, a magistrate may review all alcohol screening tests²⁸ and chemical analyses, and may receive testimony from any law enforcement officer concerning impairment and the circumstances of the arrest.²⁹ The magistrate also may observe the person arrested.³⁰

III. Civil License Revocations

State law requires the immediate civil revocation of driver's licenses of certain persons charged with implied consent offenses.³¹ When the results of a chemical analysis or reports indicating a refusal to submit to a chemical analysis are available at the time of the initial appearance, the law enforcement officer and chemical analyst must execute a revocation report before the magistrate.³² The magistrate must, after completing any other proceedings involving the person, determine whether there is probable cause to believe that the conditions requiring civil license revocation are met.³³

A. Conditions Requiring Civil License Revocation

A person's driver's license is subject to civil revocation under G.S. 20-16.5 if each of the following four conditions is satisfied:

- 1. A law enforcement officer has reasonable grounds to believe that the person has committed an implied consent offense (see sidebar, p. 6).
- 2. The person is charged with an implied consent offense.
- 3. The law enforcement officer and the chemical analyst comply with the procedures of G.S. 20-16.2 and -139.1 in requiring the person to submit to or in procuring a chemical analysis.
- 4. The person:
 - a. willfully refuses to submit to the chemical analysis,
 - b. has an alcohol concentration of .08 or more within a relevant time after the driving,
 - c. has an alcohol concentration of .04 or more at any relevant time after the driving of a commercial motor vehicle, or
 - d. has any alcohol concentration at any relevant time after the driving and the person is under twenty-one years of age.

A different rule governs the use of alcohol screening tests in cases in which a defendant is charged with driving by a person less than twenty-one years old after consuming alcohol. See G.S. 20-138.3(b2). In such cases, a law enforcement officer, court, or administrative agency may use the results of an alcohol screening test to determine whether alcohol was present in the driver's body. Id. Thus not only may the results of the test be used in such cases, but reliance on the results also is not limited to determining probable cause.

may use "[t]he fact that a driver showed a positive or negative result on an alcohol screening test, but not the actual alcohol concentration result," in determining probable cause for an implied consent offense. G.S. 20-16.3(d). An officer also may use a driver's refusal to submit to an alcohol screening test in determining probable cause. Id.

Implied Consent Offenses

- 1. Impaired driving (G.S. 20-138.1),
- 2. Impaired driving in a commercial vehicle (G.S. 20-138.2),
- 3. Habitual impaired driving (G.S. 20-138.5),
- 4. Any death by vehicle or serious injury by vehicle offense under G.S. 20-141.4 when based on impaired driving or a substantially similar offense under previous law,
- 5. First- or second-degree murder (G.S. 14-17) or involuntary manslaughter (G.S. 14-18) when based on impaired driving,
- 6. Driving by a person less than twenty-one years old after consuming alcohol or drugs (G.S. 20-138.3),
- 7. Violating no-alcohol condition of limited driving privilege (G.S. 20-179.3),
- 8. Impaired instruction (G.S. 20-12.1),
- 9. Operating commercial motor vehicle after consuming alcohol (G.S. 20-138.2A),
- 10. Operating school bus, school activity bus, or child care vehicle after consuming alcohol (G.S. 20-138.2B),
- 11. Transporting an open container of alcohol (G.S. 20-138.7(a)),
- 12. Driving in violation of restriction requiring ignition interlock (G.S. 20-17.8(f)).

Note: See G.S. 20-16.2(a1); -4.01(24a).

Although normally a person submits to chemical analysis only after he or she is arrested and charged with an implied consent offense, a person who is stopped or questioned by a law enforcement officer who is investigating whether that person may have committed an implied consent offense may request that a chemical analysis be administered before any arrest or other charge is made.³⁴ Upon such a request, the officer must afford the person the opportunity to have a chemical analysis of his or her breath, if available, in accordance with the procedures required by G.S. 20-139.1(b).³⁵ The notice of rights required prior to administration of a precharge test is prescribed by statute and differs slightly from the notice provided in a case in which the person already has been charged with an implied consent offense.³⁶ A precharge chemical analysis can give rise to a license revocation if the following conditions are satisfied:³⁷

- 1. The person requested a precharge chemical analysis pursuant to G.S. 20-16.2(i) and
- 2. The person has
 - a. an alcohol concentration of .08 or more at any relevant time after driving,
 - b. an alcohol concentration of .04 or more at any relevant time after driving a commercial vehicle, or
 - c. any alcohol concentration at any relevant time after driving and the person is under twenty-one years of age, and
- 3. The person is charged with an implied consent offense.

Driving in Violation of an Alcohol Restriction That Is Not an Implied Consent Offense

When a person's license is restored after having been revoked as a result of the person's conviction for being under the age of twenty-one and driving after consuming alcohol or drugs, for impaired driving, or for another offense involving impaired driving specified in G.S. 20-19, the license is restored with the restriction that the person not operate a motor vehicle while having an alcohol concentration greater than 0.04 or, in the case of a second or subsequent restoration or conviction of certain specified offenses involving impaired driving, 0.00.³⁸ A person seeking to have his or her license restored must agree to submit to a chemical analysis in accordance with G.S. 20-16.2 at the request of a law enforcement officer who has reasonable grounds to believe that the person is operating a motor vehicle on a highway or public vehicle area in violation of the restriction. The person must also agree to be transported by the officer to the place where chemical analysis is to be administered.

Magistrates frequently question whether a person who drives in violation of such a restriction is subject to civil license revocation based merely on the violation of the alcohol restriction. The usual answer is no. Driving in violation of an alcohol restriction imposed as a condition of a license restoration pursuant to G.S. 20-19(c3) is not an implied consent offense, so the conditions for civil license revocation are not met based merely on violating such a restriction. That said, there may be instances in which there is probable cause to believe that a person with an alcohol restriction has, in addition to violating the conditions of a restricted license, also committed an implied consent offense. In such a case, if the other conditions for civil license revocation exist, the civil revocation must be issued.

One reason for the confusion may be that in addition to its use in the civil revocation context, the AOC-CVR-1A is used also to report violations of alcohol concentration restrictions to the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV). G.S. 20-16.2(c1) requires that when a person's driver's license has an alcohol concentration restriction and the results of a chemical analysis establish a violation of that restriction, or when a law enforcement officer has reasonable grounds to believe that the person has violated another provision of the restriction, the law enforcement officer must execute an affidavit regarding the violation and "immediately mail" it to the DMV.

The officer must designate in item 2 of AOC-CVR-1A the type of driver's license restriction and specify in item 3 the nature of the restriction violation. Upon receipt of a properly executed AOC-CVR-1A setting forth a restriction violation, the DMV must notify the person that the person's driver's license is revoked for the period of time specified under G.S. 20-19, effective on the tenth calendar day after the mailing of the revocation order, unless before the effective date of the order the person requests in writing a hearing before the DMV.³⁹

Driving in Violation of Ignition Interlock Restriction

Certain persons convicted of impaired driving may have their licenses restored only in conjunction with an ignition interlock restriction.⁴⁰ A person whose license is revoked as a result of a conviction of impaired driving pursuant to G.S. 20-138.1 who had either (1) an alcohol concentration level of 0.15 or higher or (2) a prior conviction for an offense involving impaired driving, that offense having occurred within seven years immediately preceding the date of ^{38.} G.S. 20-19(c3).

^{39.} G.S. 20-19(c5).

^{40.} G.S. 20-17.8.

the offense for which the person's license is revoked, may have his or her license restored only with an ignition interlock restriction.⁴¹ This requires that a person operate only a vehicle that is equipped with a functioning ignition interlock system.⁴² The person must personally activate the ignition interlock system before driving the vehicle.⁴³ An alcohol concentration restriction of 0.04 or 0.00 also applies, with the level dependant on the circumstances of the conviction giving rise to the ignition interlock requirement.⁴⁴

A person who violates an ignition interlock restriction commits the offense of driving while license revoked (DWLR) under G.S. 20-28(a) and is subject to punishment and license revocation as provided in that section.⁴⁵ If a law enforcement officer has reasonable grounds to believe that a person subject to an ignition interlock restriction has consumed alcohol while driving, or has driven while any previously consumed alcohol remains in his or her body, the suspected offense of DWLR is an alcohol-related offense subject to the implied consent provisions of G.S. 20-16.2.⁴⁶

Thus certain violations of ignition interlock restrictions constitute implied consent offenses. If a person is charged with such an offense and the other requirements of G.S. 20-16.5 are satisfied, the magistrate must order the person's driver's license civilly revoked under G.S. 20-16.5.

The person's license also will be suspended pursuant to G.S. 20-17.8, which provides that when a person subject to an ignition interlock restriction is charged with DWLR based on a violation of the ignition interlock restrictions set forth in G.S. 20-17.8(b)⁴⁷ and the judicial official finds probable cause for the charge, the person's license is suspended pending the resolution of the case. G.S. 20-17.8 provides that the judicial official must require the person to surrender the license and inform the person that he or she is not entitled to drive until the case is resolved.

B. Affidavit and Revocation Report (AOC-CVR-1A)

In implied consent cases in which the law enforcement officer and a chemical analyst determine that the conditions requiring an immediate civil license revocation exist, the law enforcement officer and chemical analyst (who may be the same person) must execute an AOC-CVR-1A.⁴⁸

47. These restrictions are that the person (1) operate only a vehicle equipped with interlock, (2) personally activate the ignition interlock before driving, and (3) comply with the alcohol concentration restrictions. The requirement that a person subject to ignition interlock have all registered vehicles owned by that person equipped with ignition interlock unless the DMV determines that one or more vehicles owned by that person are relied upon by a family member for transportation and that the vehicle is not in the possession of the restricted person is contained in G.S. 20-17.8(c1). Thus a violation of this requirement alone does not give rise to a G.S. 20-17.8(f) revocation. Nor would it constitute an implied consent offense, since it would not involve the consumption of alcohol while driving or driving while previously consumed alcohol remains in the body.

48. The charging officer may also perform the work of the chemical analyst—the person authorized to conduct chemical analyses of the breath—if the officer has a current permit issued by the Department of Health and Human Services authorizing the officer to perform a breath test using the type of instrument employed. G.S. 20-139.1(b1).

^{41.} G.S. 20-17.8(l) sets forth a medical exception to the ignition interlock requirement for people who establish that they are not capable of personally activating the ignition interlock system.

This report is a sworn statement by a law enforcement officer and chemical analyst containing facts indicating that the conditions requiring a civil license revocation are met and reporting whether the person has a pending offense for which the person's license had been or is revoked under the civil revocation statute.⁴⁹

A law enforcement officer must ensure that the AOC-CVR-1A is expeditiously filed with the appropriate judicial official. If no revocation report has previously been filed and the results of the chemical analysis or the reports indicating the defendant's willful refusal to submit to a chemical analysis are available, the law enforcement officer must file the report with the judicial official conducting the initial appearance on the underlying criminal charge—typically a magistrate.⁵⁰

After completing any other proceedings involving the person, the magistrate must determine whether there is probable cause to believe that the conditions requiring civil license revocation are satisfied.⁵¹ If the magistrate determines that the requirements are met, the magistrate must enter an order revoking the defendant's license for the requisite period, unless the exception for revoked licenses, described below, applies.⁵² The revocation begins at the time the order is issued.⁵³

Exception for Revoked Licenses

If the magistrate finds that the person whose license is subject to civil revocation has a currently revoked driver's license, no limited driving privilege, and will not become eligible for restoration of his or her license or a limited driving privilege during the period of civil revocation, the magistrate is not required to issue the civil revocation order.⁵⁴ If this exception applies and the revocation order is not issued, the magistrate must file in the records of the civil proceeding a copy of any documentary evidence and set out in writing all other evidence on which he or she relied in making that determination.⁵⁵

^{49.} G.S. 20-16.5(a)(4). If the charging officer and the chemical analyst are different people, the officer will complete the pertinent part of one AOC-CVR-1A (paragraphs 1–5), and the chemical analyst will complete the remaining portions (paragraphs 6–14) of a separate AOC-CVR-1A. If one chemical analyst analyzes a person's blood and another chemical analyst informs a person of his or her rights and responsibilities under G.S. 20-16.2, the affidavit and report must include the statements of both analysts. The officer also must state in the last block of paragraph 4 of the AOC-CVR-1A whether the person has a pending offense for which the person's license has been or is revoked under G.S. 20-16.5, as this will affect the length of the revocation period.

^{50.} G.S. 20-16.5(d)(1). If no report has previously been filed and the results or reports indicating a refusal were not available at the initial appearance, the report must be filed with a judicial official conducting any other proceeding relating to the underlying criminal charge at which the person is present. G.S. 20-16.5(d)(2). If neither G.S. 20-16.5(d)(1) nor (d)(2) is applicable at the time the law enforcement officer must file the report, the report must be filed with the clerk of superior court in the county in which the underlying criminal charge has been brought. G.S. 20-16.5(e).

^{51.} G.S. 20-16.5(e).

^{52.} A person's license is subject to immediate civil revocation if the aforementioned statutory requirements are met—even if the person was driving a vehicle for which no license was required, such as a moped, bicycle, or lawn mower.

Multiple Offenses

A person may be charged with more than one implied consent offense arising from a single event. For example, as a result of one episode of driving while impaired a person may be charged under G.S. 20-138.1 as well as under G.S. 20-138.3, if the driver is less than twenty-one years old. Both of these offenses are implied consent offenses that, when combined with other requisite factors, require a civil license revocation. However, when a defendant is charged with more than one offense requiring a civil license revocation based on conduct arising from a single occurrence, only one civil license revocation should be issued.

C. Revocation Order When the Person Is Present (AOC-CVR-2)

The form a magistrate must use to enter a revocation order is AOC-CVR-2 (Revocation Order When Person Present; see Appendix A). The magistrate must check the appropriate box under paragraph 4 of the findings for probable cause section to indicate whether the defendant (a) will-fully refused to submit to a chemical analysis, (b) had an alcohol concentration of .08 or more at any relevant time after driving, (c) had an alcohol concentration of .04 or more at any relevant time after the driving of a commercial motor vehicle, or (d) had any alcohol concentration at any relevant time after the driving and, at the time of the offense, was under twenty-one years of age. If the defendant has been charged with an offense for which his or her license had been or is revoked pursuant to G.S. 20-16.5 and that offense is pending, the magistrate must so indicate by checking paragraph 5 in the same section.

The magistrate must then complete the order portion of AOC-CVR-2. The magistrate must indicate whether the revocation is in effect for at least thirty days from (1) the date the order is entered [box 1], (2) the date the defendant surrenders his or her driver's license to the court or demonstrates that he or she is not currently licensed to drive [box 2], or (3) the date he or she surrenders his or her driver's license to the court or demonstrates that he or she is not currently licensed to drive and indefinitely until a final judgment, including appeals, has been entered for the current offense and for all pending offenses for which his or her driver's license had been or is revoked under G.S. 20-16.5 [box 3]. If the person surrenders his or her license at the time of revocation and has no pending offenses for which the license was or is revoked under G.S. 20-16.5, the magistrate checks box 1. If the person does not surrender his or her license at the time of the revocation but has no pending offenses for which the license was revoked, the magistrate checks box 2. If the magistrate checked box 5 in the findings for probable cause section, indicating that the person has a pending offense for which his or her license is or was civilly revoked, the magistrate must check box 3 in the order portion of the form, indicating that the current civil revocation is indefinite in duration. Again, these provisions provide the starting date for measuring the minimum term of the revocation. The defendant's license is revoked immediately upon being ordered.

Notifying the Defendant

The magistrate must give the defendant a copy of the revocation order. Although G.S. 20-16.5 does not require that the magistrate orally notify the defendant of the revocation period, a magistrate should, in the interest of securing compliance with the revocation, inform the defendant that his or her license is revoked for at least thirty days. If box 3 of the order portion of AOC-CVR-2 is checked, indicating an indefinite revocation, the magistrate should inform the defendant that his or her license is revoked for at least thirty days and that it remains revoked indefinitely, until a final judgment is entered for the current offense and all pending offenses for which his or her license had been or is revoked under G.S. 20-16.5. The magistrate must state in the order and personally inform the defendant that he or she may request a hearing to contest the validity of the revocation order and that his or her license remains revoked pending that hearing.⁵⁶

Surrender of License

Upon entering the revocation order, the magistrate must order the person to surrender his or her license and, if necessary, may order a law enforcement officer to seize the license.⁵⁷ Licenses issued by jurisdictions other than North Carolina are covered by the surrender provisions and must, like North Carolina driver's licenses, be surrendered to the magistrate.⁵⁸

A person may surrender the license by turning over to a court or a law enforcement officer his or her most recent, valid driver's license or learner's permit or a limited driving privilege issued by a North Carolina court.⁵⁹ In July 2008, the North Carolina DMV launched a central system for issuing licenses.⁶⁰ Under this system, a person who applies to renew his or her driver's license does not receive a newly minted license from the local DMV office.⁶¹ Instead, the person receives a temporary driving certificate valid for twenty days.⁶² In the interim, the person's driver's license is produced at a central location and then mailed to the applicant.⁶³ When a magistrate orders a civil license revocation for a person who has a temporary driving certificate rather than a renewed license, the magistrate should require the driver to surrender the temporary certificate. The magistrate should further instruct the person that upon receiving his or her renewed license in the mail, he or she must surrender it to the office of the clerk for superior court for the remainder of the revocation period.

No License or Lost License (AOC-CVR-8)

A person who is validly licensed but unable to locate his or her license may surrender the license by filing with the clerk form AOC-CVR-8 (Affidavit—No License; see Appendix A), indicating why, though validly licensed, he or she does not possess the license card.⁶⁴ A person who is not licensed to drive in North Carolina and thus has no license from North Carolina or elsewhere may complete AOC-CVR-8 and submit the affidavit to either the magistrate or the clerk. A person also may demonstrate to the magistrate that he or she is not licensed by producing appropriate identification that the magistrate can check against North Carolina DMV records. If a person submits AOC-CVR-8 to establish that he or she does not have a license or otherwise demonstrates to the magistrate that he or she has no license, the magistrate must check box 3 in the supplemental findings and order section on side two of AOC-CVR-2, indicating that the person demonstrated that he or she was not currently authorized to drive in North Carolina, and record the time and date in the first sentence of this section of the form. The magistrate must then sign and date the supplemental findings and order section.

For Persons Who Do Not Have a Pending Implied Consent Charge at the Time of the Current Offense, the Civil Revocation Concludes When:

- 1. The person has surrendered his or her license or has demonstrated to the court that he or she has no license or has lost his or her license;
- 2. Thirty days (forty-five days if the person fails to surrender his or her license within five working days after the effective date of a revocation order issued by a clerk and served by mail) have passed since the license was surrendered; and
- 3. The person has paid the $100 in costs.

If within five working days of the effective date of the order the person does not surrender his or her license or demonstrate that he or she is not currently licensed, the clerk must immediately enter a Drivers License Pick-Up Order (AOC-CVR-4; see Appendix A).⁶⁵

Revocation Period

A civil license revocation ordered by a magistrate begins at the time the revocation order is issued and continues until the person's license has been surrendered for the minimum revocation period (discussed below) and the person has paid the applicable costs.⁶⁶ Revocations under G.S. 20-16.5 are never shorter than thirty days from the date the person surrenders the license. The revocation period may be longer, depending on whether, at the time of the present implied consent offense, the person has a pending offense for which his or her license was or has been revoked under G.S. 20-16.5.

The above sidebar sets forth the revocation period for persons who do not have an implied consent charge pending at the time of the current offense. For a person who, at the time of the new offense has a pending implied consent charge for which his or her license was or is civilly revoked, the new civil revocation is indefinite and lasts until a final judgment (including all appeals) has been entered for the current offense and all pending implied consent offenses. In no event may the revocation period be shorter than thirty days. This indefinite revocation period applies regardless of whether the civil revocation in the earlier case was in place at the time of the instant offense; the key is whether the prior implied consent charge itself is still pending.

D. Contesting a License Revocation (AOC-CVR-5)

As previously mentioned, a person whose license is revoked under G.S. 20-16.5 may request a hearing to contest the validity of the revocation. The request must be in writing and may be made at the time of the person's initial appearance or within ten days of the effective date of the revocation.⁶⁷ The appropriate form for this situation is AOC-CVR-5 (Request for Hearing to Contest License Revocation; see Appendix A). It must be made to the clerk or a magistrate designated by the clerk and must specify the grounds upon which the revocation is challenged.⁶⁸ The ensuing hearing must be limited to the grounds specified in that request.⁶⁹

^{65.} G.S. 20-16.5(e). 66. Id. 67. G.S. 20-16.5(g). 68. Id. 69. Id.

The person may specifically request that the hearing be conducted by a district court judge.⁷⁰ If the person does not make that request, the hearing must be conducted by a magistrate assigned by the chief district court judge to conduct such hearings.⁷¹ The General Statutes are silent on the matter, but in order to ensure an impartial review, the review hearing should be held by a magistrate other than the magistrate who entered the initial revocation order. If the person does request that a district court judge hold the hearing, it must be conducted within the district court district by a district court judge assigned to conduct such hearings.⁷² The revocation remains in effect pending the hearing.⁷³ The hearing must be held within three working days following the request if the hearing is before a magistrate or within five working days if before a district court judge.⁷⁴ If the hearing is not held and completed by a magistrate within three working days or by a district court judge within five working days of the written request, the judicial official must enter an order rescinding the revocation, unless the person contesting the revocation contributed to the delay.⁷⁵ If the person requesting the hearing fails to appear at the hearing or at any rescheduled hearing after having been property notified, he or she forfeits the right to a hearing.⁷⁶

A witness may submit evidence via affidavit at the hearing unless the witness is subpoenaed.⁷⁷ Any person who appears and testifies is subject to questioning by the judicial official conducting the hearing, and the judicial official may adjourn the hearing to seek additional evidence if he or she deems necessary.⁷⁸ If the hearing is adjourned, it must be reconvened and the matter resolved within the applicable time limit (three working days if held by the magistrate, five working days if held by a district court judge).⁷⁹ The person contesting the validity of the revocation may, but is not required to, testify on his or her own behalf.⁸⁰ Unless contested by the person requesting the hearing, statements in the revocation report may be accepted as true by the judicial official.⁸¹ If any relevant condition under G.S. 20-16.5(b) is contested, the judicial official must find by the greater weight of the evidence that the condition was met in order to sustain the revocation.⁸² At the end of the hearing, the judicial official must enter an order on side two of AOC-CVR-5 sustaining or rescinding the revocation. The decision of the judicial official is final and may not be appealed.⁸³

E. Return of License

After the applicable period of revocation has passed, or if a magistrate or judge orders the revocation rescinded, the person whose license was revoked may apply to the clerk for return of the surrendered license. The clerk generally keeps surrendered licenses rather than mailing them to the DMV. An exception applies if the person's license is revoked pursuant to G.S. 20-16.5 and under another section of Chapter 20. In such cases, the clerk must surrender the license to the DMV if the G.S. 20-16.5 revocation can end before the other revocation.⁸⁴ The $100 in costs⁸⁵ still must be paid before the G.S. 20-16.5 civil revocation may be terminated, even after the other revocation ends.⁸⁶

Upon application, a clerk must return a person's license if (1) the applicable period of revocation has passed and the person has paid the $100 in costs or (2) the magistrate or judge has rescinded the revocation.⁸⁷ If the license has expired, the clerk may return it to the person with a caution that it is no longer valid.⁸⁸ If the person has surrendered his or her copy of a limited driving privilege and is no longer eligible to use it, the clerk must make a record that the limited driving privilege was withheld.⁸⁹ The clerk must then forward that record to the clerk in the county in which the limited driving privilege was issued for inclusion in the case file.⁹⁰

F. Nature of Revocation

Civil license revocations pursuant to G.S. 20-16.5 are intended to "prevent unsafe and unfit drivers from operating vehicles and endangering the citizens of North Carolina"⁹¹ rather than to punish drivers for conduct for which they have not yet been convicted. A civil revocation pursuant to G.S. 20-16.5 revokes a person's privilege to drive in North Carolina regardless of the source of his or her authorization to drive.⁹² Revocations under G.S. 20-16.5 are independent of and run concurrently with other revocations.⁹³ A court that imposes a period of revocation upon ^{84.} An exception applies for out-of-state licenses revoked because the driver refused to submit to a chemical analysis. When a person refuses to submit to a chemical analysis, the person's license is revoked by the DMV for twelve months, unless the person requests a hearing on the matter and the DMV concludes that certain statutory requirements are not met. G.S. 20-16.2(d). Upon refusal by a nonresident and out-of-state license holder, the DMV may revoke only the person's privilege to drive in North Carolina—not the person's privilege to drive in his or her home state. See G.S. 20-16.2(f) (providing for notice to other states of revocation of nonresident's privilege to drive a motor vehicle in North Carolina based on a refusal to submit to a chemical analysis); see also State v. Streckfuss, 171 N.C. App. 81, 85–87, 614 S.E.2d 323, 326–327 (2005) (implicitly recognizing that North Carolina lacks authority to prohibit a nonresident from driving in his or her home state). For this reason, the DMV will not accept out-of-state licenses, and the clerk must return such licenses to the license holder upon satisfaction of the conditional revocation period and payment of costs. The DMV will, however, pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 20-16.2(f), notify both the state of the person's residence and any state in which the person is licensed of the revocation of the North Carolina driving privilege.

conviction of an offense involving impaired driving may not give credit for any period of revocation imposed under G.S. 20-16.5.⁹⁴

G. Limited Driving Privileges

A person whose license is civilly revoked for thirty or forty-five days may apply to the court for a limited driving privilege if the following conditions are met: (1) at the time of the alleged offense the person held a valid driver's license or one that had been expired for less than one year; (2) except for the charge for which the license is currently revoked, the person does not have (a) an unresolved pending charge involving impaired driving or (b) additional convictions for an offense involving impaired driving since being charged for the violation for which the license is currently revoked under G.S. 20-16.5; (3) the person's license has been revoked for at least ten days if the revocation period is thirty days or for at least thirty days if the revocation period is forty-five days; and (4) the person has obtained a substance abuse assessment from a mental health facility and registers for and agrees to participate in any recommended training or treatment program.⁹⁵ Any district court judge authorized to hold court in the judicial district where the case is pending is authorized to issue such a limited privilege.⁹⁶ Other judicial officials, such as clerks and magistrates, are not authorized to do so.

A person whose license has been indefinitely revoked (which occurs when the person has a pending charge for an implied consent offense involving impaired driving at the time of the instant alleged offense) may, after completing thirty days of revocation or forty-five days if the license was surrendered more than five working days after the effective date of the revocation order entered by the clerk, apply for a limited driving privilege.⁹⁷ A judge of the division in which the instant charge is pending may issue the limited driving privilege only if the privilege is necessary to overcome undue hardship and the person meets the following eligibility requirements: (1) at the time of the offense, the person held either a valid driver's license or a license that had been expired for less than one year; (2) at the time of the offense the person had not within seven years been convicted of an offense involving impaired driving; (3) after the current offense, he or she has not been convicted of, or charged with, an offense involving impaired driving; and (4) the person has obtained and filed with the court a substance abuse assessment of the type required by G.S. 20-17.6 for restoration of a driver's license.⁹⁸

H. Driving While License Civilly Revoked

A person who drives while his or her license is civilly revoked commits the offense of DWLR under G.S. 20-28. This is true even when the minimum revocation period has expired at the time of the driving and the person is eligible to have his or license returned upon payment of costs. G.S. 20-28(a1) provides that a person convicted of DWLR for driving after the minimum revocation period had expired but before reclaiming his or her license is punished as if the person has been convicted of the less serious offense of driving without a license. This reduced punishment does not alter the charge or conviction of DWLR.

IV. Vehicle Seizure and Impoundment

The final procedure discussed in this bulletin is vehicle seizure and impoundment. This procedure applies only to offenses involving impaired driving, which constitute a subset of the broader category of implied consent offenses. G.S. 20-28.3 provides that a motor vehicle driven by a person charged with an offense involving impaired driving is subject to seizure if at the time of the violation (1) the driver's license of the person driving the motor vehicle was revoked as the result of a prior impaired driving license revocation as defined in G.S. 20-28.2(a) or (2) at the time of the violation the person was not validly licensed and was not covered by an automobile liability policy.⁹⁹

A judge later determines at the defendant's sentencing or other hearing whether a motor vehicle driven by an impaired driver and seized and impounded pursuant to G.S. 20-28.3 is subject to an order of forfeiture.¹⁰⁰ The proceeds of any forfeiture sale are disbursed to the county board of education.¹⁰¹

A. Key Terms Defined

An understanding of several terms is required to determine whether a motor vehicle is subject to seizure pursuant to G.S. 20-28.3. The terms "motor vehicle," "driving without a valid drivers license," driving while "not covered by an automobile liability policy," "offenses involving impaired driving," and "prior impaired driving license revocation" are defined in the following paragraphs. The latter two terms also are defined on side two of AOC-CR-323 (Officer's Affidavit for Seizure and Impoundment and Magistrate's Order; see Appendix A).

Motor Vehicle

The term "motor vehicle" is defined as "[e]very vehicle which is self-propelled and every vehicle designed to run upon the highways which is pulled by a self-propelled vehicle."¹⁰² The term does not include mopeds,¹⁰³ which are vehicles with "two or three wheels, no external shifting device, and a motor that does not exceed 50 cubic centimeters piston displacement and cannot propel the vehicle at a speed greater than 30 miles per hour on a level surface."¹⁰⁴ Only motor vehicles are subject to seizure pursuant to G.S. 20-28.3.

Offenses Involving Impaired Driving

The term "offenses involving impaired driving" is defined in G.S. 20-4.01(24a) to consist of the following offenses:

- impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1,
- habitual impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.5,
- impaired driving in commercial vehicle under G.S. 20-138.2,
- any offense under G.S. 20-141.4 (felony and misdemeanor death by vehicle and serious injury by vehicle) based on impaired driving,
- first- or second-degree murder under G.S. 14-17 based on impaired driving,

^{99.} G.S. 20-28.3(a).

^{100.} G.S. 20-28.2.

^{101.} G.S. 20-28.2(d).

^{102.} G.S. 20-4.01(23).

^{103.} Id.

^{104.} See G.S. 20-4.01(27)(d1)(incorporating definition of moped in G.S. 105-164.3(22)).

- involuntary manslaughter under G.S. 14-18 based on impaired driving,
- substantially similar offenses committed in another state or jurisdiction.

As previously noted, a motor vehicle driven by a person during the commission of an impaired driving offense (defined above) is subject to seizure in two circumstances: (1) if the person's driver's license was revoked as a result of a prior impaired driving license revocation or (2) if the person was not validly licensed and was not covered by an automobile liability policy.

Prior Impaired Driving License Revocations

This term is defined by G.S. 20-28.2(a) to include revocations made under any of the following statutes:

- G.S. 20-13.2: consuming alcohol or drugs or willful refusal by driver under age twenty-one to submit to chemical analysis;
- G.S. 20-16(a)(8b): driving while impaired on a military installation;
- G.S. 20-16.2: refusal to take a chemical test;
- G.S. 20-16.5: pretrial civil license revocation;
- G.S. 20-17(a)(2): impaired driving or impaired driving in a commercial vehicle;
- G.S. 20-138.5: habitual impaired driving;
- G.S. 20-17(a)(12): transporting an open container of alcohol;
- G.S. 20-17.2: court order not to operate motor vehicle (repealed effective December 1, 2006);
- G.S. 20-16(a)(7): impaired driving while out of state resulting in revocation of North Carolina driver's license;
- G.S. 20-17(a)(1): manslaughter or second-degree murder involving impaired driving;
- G.S. 20-17(a)(3): felony involving use of motor vehicle involving impaired driving;
- G.S. 20-17(a)(9): felony or misdemeanor death or felony serious injury by vehicle involving impaired driving;
- G.S. 20-17(a)(11): assault with motor vehicle involving impaired driving;
- G.S. 20-28.2(a)(3): the laws of another state and the offense for which the person's license is revoked prohibits substantially similar conduct that, if committed in North Carolina, would result in a revocation listed under any of the statutes listed above.

Driving without a Valid Driver's License

With respect to the provision for seizure of a vehicle driven by a person charged with an impaired driving offense who was driving without a license and without liability insurance, it is important to note that a person who has a complete defense pursuant to G.S. 20-35 to a charge of driving without a driver's license is considered to have had a valid driver's license at the time of the violation. Thus a motor vehicle driven by such a person is not subject to seizure.¹⁰⁵ A person may not be convicted of the offense of driving a motor vehicle without a driver's license if the person demonstrates the following: (1) that at the time of the offense, the person had an expired license, (2) that the person renewed the license within thirty days after it expired, and (3) that the person could not have been charged with driving without a license because the person had the renewed license when charged with the offense.¹⁰⁶ Moreover, a person's simple failure to carry a license on his or her person does not satisfy the "driving without a license" prong so as to subject the vehicle to seizure.

^{105.} G.S. 20-28.3(a).

^{106.} G.S. 20-35(c).

Driving While Not Covered by Automobile Liability Policy

In addition to having probable cause to believe that the driver was charged with an impaired driving offense and did not have a valid license, in order to seize a motor vehicle under G.S. 20-28.3(a)(2), an officer must have probable cause to believe that the driver was not covered by an automobile liability policy. G.S. 20-309 requires financial responsibility in the form of a liability insurance policy, financial security bond, or financial security deposit or by qualification as a self-insurer, as a prerequisite to registration. G.S. 20-313 makes it a Class 1 misdemeanor for the owner of a motor vehicle registered or required to be registered in North Carolina to operate the motor vehicle or permit the motor vehicle to be operated in the state without having the required financial responsibility. It is important to note that G.S. 20-28.3(a) (2)b. refers to whether the driver—not the motor vehicle—is covered by an automobile liability policy. A person who drives a motor vehicle owned by someone else with the owner's permission is covered by the automobile liability policy for the motor vehicle being driven, if such a policy exists.¹⁰⁷ In addition, the authorized driver may be covered by an automobile liability insurance policy under which he or she is an insured driver, even if the motor vehicle itself is not listed on a policy.

B. Procedure for Ordering Seizure and Impoundment

Law enforcement officers who seize or plan to seize a motor vehicle pursuant to G.S. 20-28.3 must present to a magistrate within the county where the driver was charged an affidavit of impoundment setting forth the basis upon which the motor vehicle has been or will be seized for forfeiture.¹⁰⁸ AOC-CR-323 is the form on which the officer may complete an affidavit in support of the seizure and/or impoundment. Upon determining that the statutory requirements for seizure are met, a magistrate must order the vehicle held. The magistrate may do so on the bottom portion of the same form (designated magistrate's order). In addition to reviewing the officer's affidavit, the magistrate may request additional information and may hear from the defendant if the defendant is present.¹⁰⁹ If the motor vehicle has not yet been seized and the magistrate determines that seizure is warranted, the magistrate must issue an order of seizure.¹¹⁰ If the vehicle already has been seized, and the conditions are satisfied, the magistrate orders that the seized vehicle be impounded and held.¹¹¹ The magistrate must provide a copy of the order to the clerk of court, who, in turn, must provide copies to the district attorney and the attorney for the county board of education.¹¹² If the magistrate determines that the statutory requirements for seizure and impoundment are not satisfied, the magistrate must order the vehicle released to its owner upon payment of towing and storage fees.¹¹³ Towing and storage fees may not be waived—even when the magistrate orders the vehicle released based on a finding that the statutory requirements for seizure have not been met.¹¹⁴

C. Exceptions to Seizure

There are two important exceptions to the above-described requirements for seizure of a motor vehicle. A motor vehicle may not be seized if it has been reported stolen or if it is a rental vehicle and the driver is not listed as an authorized driver under the rental contract.¹¹⁵ Other types of what the statute refers to as "innocent owners" may secure the release of their motor vehicles from impoundment, but those circumstances are not relevant to the magistrate's consideration of whether to order the vehicle seized and impounded.¹¹⁶

D. Executing an Order of Seizure

Orders of seizure are valid anywhere in North Carolina and may be carried out by any officer with territorial jurisdiction who has subject matter jurisdiction for violations of G.S. Chapter 20.¹¹⁷ Such an officer may use reasonable force to seize the motor vehicle and may enter upon the property of the defendant in order to accomplish the seizure.¹¹⁸ If an officer has probable cause to believe that the motor vehicle is located on the property of someone other than the defendant, the officer may obtain a search warrant to enter that property for the purpose of seizing the vehicle.¹¹⁹

V. Conclusion

In conducting initial appearances in implied consent cases, magistrates may be required to carry out procedures in addition to those generally required for all criminal offenses. This bulletin has described the steps for two of those additional processes: civil license revocation, required in certain implied consent cases, and vehicle seizure and impoundment, required in certain offenses involving impaired driving, a subset of implied consent cases. The following AOC forms and procedural flowcharts are presented to assist magistrates in completing the procedures associated with an initial appearance in an implied consent case.
