Listserv Etiquette:

You will not be able to post messages to an IDS listserv or receive messages from an IDS listserv until you are subscribed to the particular list. Once you are subscribed, if you post a message to a listserv, it will be received by all of the attorneys across the State who are also subscribed to that listserv. If you want to reply to a message off-list, please type in the email address of the individual recipient. While the IDS listservs are restricted to attorneys who work in the various specialized fields, any information you post is not protected by the attorney-client or work product privileges. Please exercise professional judgment in your use of the listservs.
