N.C. Gen. Stat. § 14-7.20.

235.51 TERRORISM—CONTINUING CRIMINAL ENTERPRISE. FELONY.

The defendant has been charged with engaging in a continuing criminal enterprise.¹

For you to find the defendant guilty of this offense, the State must prove five things beyond a reasonable doubt:

First, that the defendant committed a felony under the Terrorism Act (Summarize the alleged conduct, referring to elements of the felony, e.g., "Use of any explosive or incendiary device") is (name felony), a felony under the Terrorism Act.²

Second, that this felony was part of a continuing series of violations of the Terrorism Act. (Summarize relevant provisions of the Terrorism Act.)

Third, that the defendant undertook this series of violations in concert with five (or more) other persons. Persons act in concert when they act together with a common purpose to commit a crime or series of crimes.

Fourth, that with respect to these other persons, the defendant occupied a position of [organizer] [supervisor] [management].

And Fifth, that the defendant obtained substantial income or resources from this series of crime.

1 G.S. 14-7.20 (a1) states "Any person who engages in a continuing criminal enterprise where the felony violation required by subdivision (c)(1) of this section is a violation of G.S. 14-10.1 shall be punished as a Class D felon, and, in addition, shall be subject to the forfeiture prescribed in subsection (b) of this section."

2 G.S. 14-7.20 (b) states "Any person who is convicted under subsection (a) or (a1) of this section of engaging in a continuing criminal enterprise shall forfeit to the State of North Carolina: (1) The profits obtained by the person in the enterprise, and (2) Any of the person's interest in, claim against, or property or contractual rights of any kind affording a source of influence over, such enterprise."

N.C. Gen. Stat. § 14-7.20.

If you find from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that on or about the alleged date, the defendant committed (name felony) and that this was part of a continuing series of violations of the Terrorism Act undertaken by the defendant in concert with at least five other persons, with respect to whom the defendant occupied a position of [organizer] [supervisor] [management], and if you further find that the defendant obtained substantial income or resources from this series of crimes, it would be your duty to return a verdict of guilty. If you do not so find or have a reasonable doubt as to one or more of these things, it would be your duty to return a verdict of not guilty.
