Few sporting events replicate the unpredictability, anticipation and emotions that come with the NFL Draft. It's an endless stream of analysis and forecasting. The 2024 NFL Draft will fulfill a dream for hundreds of college football players.

Last Update 26 April 2024 Of course, it's a big draft for the Las Vegas Raiders, who need to supplement this roster with a strong draft in the first full season under coach Antonio Pierce. The Raiders have some quality pick and they have the opportunity to get better.

The process starts now. Here is everything you need to know about how to watch the draft.

The Buffalo Bills have the No. 28 pick in the first round of the NFL Draft order. Nothing's ever certain, but the Bills are widely expected to target a wide receiver after trading star Stefon Diggs.

It's a crucial decision for Bills general manager Brandon Beane as he seeks another target for franchise quarterback Josh Allen. Diggs surpassed 1,000 yards receiving in each of his four seasons in Buffalo, leaving with 5,372 yards, 37 touchdowns and four Pro Bowl selections.

All eyes will be on top quarterbacks early. USC's Caleb Williams and LSU's Jayden Daniels, both Heisman Trophy QBs, are expected to be off the board as early as No. 1 and No. 2. North Carolina QB Drake Maye is in the top-five mix as well.

Here's how to watch the 2024 NFL Draft and other things to know.

What channel is the NFL Draft on?

The NFL Draft will air on NFL Network, NFL+, ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and ESPN Deportes all three days. If you have an over-the-air antenna that picks up ABC, you can watch the draft without a cable or live streaming subscription.

How to watch, stream the 2024 NFL Draft:

■ Cable: NFL Network, NFL+, ABC, ESPN, ESPN2, ESPN Deportes

■ Streaming: NFL+, ESPN+, Hulu+, FuboTV

What picks do Buffalo Bills have in 2024 NFL Draft?

The Bills' 10 selections are at No. 28 (Round 1), No. 60 (Round 3), No. 128 (Round 4), No. 133 (Round 4), No. 144 (Round 5), No. 160 (Round 5), No. 163 (Round 5), No. 200 (Round 6), No. 204 (Round 6) and No. 248 (Round 7).

USC product Caleb Williams is widely expected to go No. 1 overall to Chicago, where Bears fans will hope he's the answer to their long-standing quarterback conundrum. After that, the NFL draft is up for grabs.

Any order of Michigan's J.J. McCarthy, UNC's Drake Maye and LSU's Jayden Daniels could follow in the top five, with quarterback-needy teams making two of those picks; the Commanders (No. 2) and Patriots (No. 3) are in prime spots to select a passer.

That said, the draft starts at 8 p.m. ET, but it might not actually start until pick No. 4. All eyes will be on Arizona, who hold the fourth selection. The Cardinals are seemingly set at quarterback with Kyler Murray locked in a long-term deal. That makes Arizona a prime trade-down candidate tonight.
