Investing in Ourselves... ‘Cause The Way We’re Working Isn’t Working

Hi, My Name is Shannon and...

- I am a mother
- I am a partner
- I am a daughter & granddaughter
- I am a sister
- I am a friend
- I am a colleague
- I am a boss
- I am an INTJ

- And most importantly, I am a FAILURE, a complete and utter failure

Here’s Your Sign...

We are so busy getting things done, that we never stop to consider if we are doing the right things.

When was the last time...
a wealth of information creates a poverty of attention.

Herbert Simon, 1971

Impact of Overload

- Anxiety / Stress
- Delay in Decision Making
- Lack of Job Satisfaction
- Waste of Time
- Working Longer Hours

“The percentage of the population who need less than five hours of sleep per night, rounded to a whole number, is ZERO.”

Thomas Roth, Henry Ford Sleep Disorders and Research Center

Resting Pulses in Daylight

- Renewal phases (90-120)
- Naps
  - 90 mins 1-3 pm (not likely 😊)
  - Power naps (less than 30 mins)
- Vacation is not optional
I frequently find myself feeling irritable, impatient or anxious at work, especially when demand is high.

I don't have enough time with my family and loved ones, and when I'm with them, I’m not always really with them.

I take too little time for the activities that I most deeply enjoy.

I rarely stop to express my appreciation to others or to savor and celebrate my accomplishments and blessings.

I often feel that my life is just a relentless set of demands I’m expected to meet and tasks I have to complete.

To Be Successful...

You must drive fear out of your mind and out of your organization!

Do one thing each day that scares you!
Remember that bad is stronger than good!
Find your passion!
Live life out loud!

Performance Pulse

Intensity

Time (4/90 rule)
I have difficulty focusing on one thing at a time and I am easily distracted during the day, especially by email.

I spend much of my time reacting to immediate demands rather than focusing on activities with longer-term value and leverage.

I don’t take enough time for reflection, strategizing and thinking creatively.

I rarely have any time when my mind is quiet and free of thoughts.

I often work on evenings and weekends and I rarely take an email-free vacation.

You have now been diagnosed with ADHD!

Eliminate Distractions

- Internal chatter needs silencing
- External distractions (like email)

Spiritual Assessment

- I don’t feel passionately committed to what I do.
- I spend too little time at work doing what I do best and enjoy most.
- There are significant gaps between what I say is important in my life and how I actually live.
- My decisions at work are often more influenced by external demands than by a strong, clear sense of my own purpose.
- I don’t invest enough time and energy in making a positive difference to others and/or in the world.

Spiritual Significance

Selflessness is equally as destructive as selfishness…
We suffer from “compassion fatigue”
How often do you think about what you stand for, what you want, how your choices affect others?
Are you a CEO?

• Are you a CEO?

Questions for Leaders

• Do you actively support people in taking care of themselves physically? Do you model these behaviors yourself?
• Do you truly value, regularly recognize, and express appreciation to those who work for you?
• Do you respect and trust your employees and treat them as adults capable of making their own decisions about how best to get their work done?
• Do you believe passionately in what you are doing and do you give the people who work for you a compelling reason beyond a paycheck to come to work everyday?

How Do I Fix It?

• Awareness is essential
• Practice makes perfect (“The Unbearable Automaticity of Being”)
  • Building rituals
  • Precision and specificity
  • Focus on what you do, not what you resist doing
  • What are you doing to avoid getting what you want?

My Gift to You

just say no!
The Ultimate Question

Is the life you are living worth the price you are paying to live it?

The Ultimate Lesson

They like you at work, they love you at home.

Make your time at work count, so your time at home matters.
