

N.C.P.I. -- Crim. 101.32 DEFENDANT'S ABSENCE FROM TRIAL; CLOSED CIRCUIT TELEVISION MONITORING

In compliance with court procedure that is provided for in cases of this nature, the defendant will not be present during portions of the presentation of evidence. In his absence, the defendant is provided closed circuit television monitoring of the proceedings and will be allowed to confer with his attorney during the presentation of evidence.

The defendant's absence is not to create any presumption against him and is not to influence your decision in any way.
